

Defense and Veterans Brain Injury Center A Head for the Future Partner Network

A Head for the Future, an initiative from the Defense and Veterans Brain Injury Center, a Defense Centers of Excellence for Psychological Health and Traumatic Brain Injury center, aims to:

- 1) Raise awareness of the signs, symptoms and treatment of traumatic brain injury (TBI) diagnosed in noncombat settings.
- 2) Educate service members, veterans, their families, caregivers, providers and line leaders about the importance of preventing brain injuries.

A Head for the Future seeks to collaborate with government agencies, civilian organizations and associations to help spread the word on recognizing, preventing and recovering from brain injuries in the military community. Successful partnerships are collaborative, share common goals to support the military community, and benefit all stakeholders.
